All of his friends are concerned over the condition of Squire Charlie Boushe, who has been confined in the hospital with a serious ailment.

Will Esderlin, who is spending the war at the Veterans Hospital at Outwood, Kentucky, spent part of his furlough in Grenada. He looks fat and sassy.

Preacher Robisson had his appendix removed last week, and is getting on OK now.

Jack McClure, of Uncle Sam's army was here recently to see his new baby.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mithcell have returned from Los Angeles where their son is in service.

Mr. R. L. "Red" Taylor was down here last Wednesday and Thursday ostensibly to attend the Wagner auction sale of cattle, but many believe he came down to sit on the curb and cry with those others.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN—my favorite WAC.

Dear Ellett: Mr. Red Taylor commented most favorably on one of your editorials which someone had clipped out and sent him. You ought to put him on your mailing list.

Brother A.D. Collins is building a concrete block house to house his pop corn and candy business at the picture show. Thus Grenada Grows.

One of the Northern soldiers was heard to say: "The SUNNY South, hell."

Rush in the job orders and help keep Horn out of devilment this week end. Neither of us got into any devilry last week end.

Alot they sweet.

DOWN WITH MR. RAT, the non-paying boarder.

The scarcity and the high prices of the product which cheers, then sickens, have caused many involuntary adherents to the Prohibition ranks.

Remember, discharged service men, Harry Greenfield, who can be found at Grenada Theatre, will help you fill out your application for mustering out pay.

Dear Whyte, Jr. when are you going to send my leather bag home?

We have a long waiting list for those who are trying to sit on the curb. Be patient, we will get to you some time.

Idle gossip about military matters is dangerous. It is the better policy to keep your tongue still about such matters.

Wells' twin brother visited Wells Sunday. They are as much alike as a couple of soy beans.

Brother G. A. Nail nailed himself to our mailing list until July, Saturday

Stalin has said nothing yet.

Reading in LIFE of last week, I saw that, whereas there were at one time 450,000 soldiers in Mississippi, there are only 100,000 now. That ought to mean something.

Some merchant got a big write-up in a national magazine because he operated a store that sold nothing but non-rationed goods. John Haxby, of Grenada, has been doing that for over a year. He would not know a point from a pint.

It looks like Senator Barkley plucked some of FDR's tail feathers recently.

It is a great pity that the South, which holds the balance of power, would not put forward some dark horse, and prevent a fourth term. First thing we know, the Roosevelts will have a vested interest in the White House.

Speaking of the White House, somebody said that Eleanor dropped into the White House one day last week to get a change of clothes.

The old lady went to preaching Sunday.

This is to remind folks that we do job printing and THIS is to remind them that, if they fail to receive the GCW, it is probable that their subscriptions have expired.

New Commander At Grenada Army Air Base

LT.-COLONEL SAMUEL J. PRICE ASSUMES COMMAND OF GRENADA ARMY AIR FIELD

Lt. Colonel Samuel J. Price has assumed command of the Grenada Army Air Field. He relieves Lt. Col. John C. Bennett, Jr., who has been called to Washington, D. C., to serve in the office of the Air Chief of Staff.

Col. Price arrived from Pope Field, Fort Bragg, N. C. where he formerly served as Base Executive Officer. Col. Price is a Command Pilot, and has for the past forty years maintained his connection with the military establishment. Due to the variety of important assignments that he has held in his army career, he is thoroughly familiar with army life and all of its ramifications. He is by training, qualified to assume the important position of Base Commander.

The new commander was born in Bellaire, Ohio, and will celebrate his 51st birthday in March. When he was but ten years old, he was enrolled in the Trinity Church Cadets. He soon developed a penchant for aviation and during the first World War he was accepted as a cadet in the Aviation Section, Signal Carps Enlisted Reserve. He attended ground school at Ohio State and received flying training at Park Field, near Memphis.

Col. Price subsequently received his commission as a 2nd Lt., Air Service Officers Reserve Corps and the rating of Reserve Military Aviator. He did not get to see any foreign service in the first war and upon cessation of civilian life. When the Air Corps resumed active flying of Reserve Officers he attended summer training periods and in 1926 was made Captain, Air Corps Reserve.

In the fall of 1927 the Ohio National Guard organized the 112th Observation Squadron, 37th Division Aviation, and Captain Price accepted a commission of the 1st Lt. in the Guard, and for some time held the two ranks of 1st Lt. and Captain. This Guard Squadron participated in observation missions in Ohio and also in flood relief, aerial mapping, border patrols, lake rescue work, and exhibitions and races in Cleveland.

When the Observation Squadron was inducted into the Army of the U. S. Capt. Price returned to active duty on November 11, 1940. He was sent to Pope Field where he was Operations and Airdrome Officer. In December, 1941, he was made a Major and the gold leaves turned into silver in less han a year.

The Colonel is married and has two dauhgters. For 17 years prior to his entrance into the present war, he was employed by Parke Davis Co., pharmaceutical manufacturers.

Of course, flying is the hobby of Col. Price. "Flying and military life filled my every minute of vacation for somany years that active duty is not unpleasant but rather a continuous recreation," he remarked.

Promoted

Word has been received from an Army Air Corps station in Alaska that Cpl. Andrew D. Whitaker was promoted to the rank of Sergeant on February 5. His wife and little daughter, Shirley May, live with his wife's parents on Levee Street. He is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, and enlisted in the Army Air Corps in the latter part of 1942.

Grenada Pilot Bags a Nazi

Lt. Alwyn M. Juchheim, Thunderbolt fighter pilot from Grenada, Miss., has just chalked up one German Messerschmitt 109 fighter and another probable in one of the oddest dog fights of the war, about 50 feet off the ground according ton United Press dispatch from England.

According to the report, the Americans shot down five German fighters and two probables, whirling madly around, the church steeple and hedges of a small German village, while escorting Flying Fortresses to a target in Germany.

LT. A. M. JUCHHEIM JR

Lt. Juchheim, one of the American pilots, reported that he saw six German planes dive thru a formation of [illegible] knocking down two of them and the American Thunderbolt followed the German planes down.

"They were headed for death and we were right on their tails," he said. "I got one ME 109 about a 100 feet off the ground. He plunged head first into the earth and the pilot rolled out as the plane fell apart."

Lt. Juchheim said he also probably shot down another. One of the German planes fell right into the main street of the German village while others crashed in its outskirts as the dogfighting whirled madly for about five minutes directly over the rooftops of the houses.—Press Scimitar.

2nd Lt. Bonifield (WAC) Buys First War Bond

Second Lieutenant Barbara A. Bonifield (WAC) merited for herself the honor of being the first War Bond in Camp McCain's 4th War Bond Loan Drive for Victory.

Jack Lott Died Saturday, February 19th

Mr. Jack Lott died suddenly early Saturday morning in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. James. Funeral services were conducted at Garner Funeral Home in Grenada Sunday afternoon by Rev. W. L. Robinson, followed by interment in Woodlawn cemetery. He always had a friendly greeting and a cheerful smile for any whom he met. Sympathy is extended the bereaved widow and relatives.

Glenwild Herefords Bring Handsome Prices

At an auction sale held at Glenwild Plantation, three miles south of Grenada, last Thursday, February 25, 63 head of the Herefords offered for sale brought a total of $22,525.00, or an average of $374.00 each.

This farm, the largest in Grenada county, is owned by Mr. F. C. Wagner, of Dunleith, Washington County, who is one of the largest, if not the largest individual cotton planter in the Delta. Glenwild Plantation is one of the largest and oldest plantations in the hill section. Even in pre-Civil War times it was a famous self-contained plantation. In 1920, it was bought by Mr. John Borden, of Chicago, who spent approximately a million dollars erecting brick buildings, improving the huge ante bellum plantation home, fencing and rebuilding tenant houses. He added the Griffis plantation on the east side of Bobue to the original Glenwild, making a tract of about 7,000 acres. Seevral years ago, it was acquired by Mr. Wagner who practically quit raising cotton on the property, but began the devolopment of a fine herd of Hereford cattle.

At this sale the top Hereford heifer was sold to W. T. Montgomery, of San Antonio, Texas, for $1,300.00. Hereford breeders from eleven states attended the sale. They came from Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Massachusettes, Illinois, Mississipi, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Lunch was served by the members of the All Saints Episcopal Auxiliary to 250 persons, the lunch being "on thehouse."

Methodist Bible Conference Held Here

Dr. Arva C. Floyd, Professor of Oriental History at Emory University, is conducting a series of Bible Conferences in ten towns on North Mississippi. He left Grenada on Sunday afternoon, after conducting a series of conferences here.

Dr. Floyd is a student of the orient, having taken his Ph. D. Degree from Yale University in this field, and having spent four years in Japan as a missionary teaching in several Methodist mission schools and government sponsored schools. He was privileged therefore to speak with real authority on his general subject—"Christian Bases for a New World Order." Those whoheard him were impressed by the timeliness of his message, and the facts he disclosed so systematically.

His daily subjects were: "What Drove Japan to War?" "Greed for Gain and the War in the Pacific." "Race Hatred and the War in the Far East." "Religious Funaitcism and Japan's Conquest."

From Grenada Dr. Floyd went to Lexington to conduct a Conference.

Plenty Of Rain

Watch somebody correct me. Rain has fallen in Grenada every day from the 1st to the 28th, inclusive, of February, and the Yalobusha River and Bogue bottoms are filled with water.

Ben B. Lawshe To Speak Here March 13th

Widely known as an authority on business organization management and procedure, Mr. Lawshe will speak on THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF TOMORROW.

Mr. Lawshe who is manager of the Commercial Organization Division of the National Chamber, will discuss thedramatic and highly important role chambers of commerce have played in the prosecution of the war and the challenge for the future. He will present a realistic picture of the possibilities for community advancement where men and women work together intelligently through their chamber of commerce.

Mr. Lawshe's work has taken him into every section of the country, giving him an unusual background of experience to draw upon in discussing business and community affairs; and executive experiences in highly diverse activities have given him a deep insight into all phases of organiation work.

1944 American Red Cross War Fund Drive Opened

Confronted with responsibilities of unprecedented proportions, as the war enters its most crucial stage, and with a staggering task still ahead in the training program at Camp McCain, Miss., Colonel Ira E. Ryder, Post Commander, and Colonel Charles F. Sutherland, Commanding Officer, 4th Hq. and Hq. Detachment, Fourth Army Special Troops, acting jointly as honorary co-chairmen, opened their 1944 American Red Cross War Fund Campaign on Wednesday, February 23, 1944.

Colonel Ryder, in opening the campaign, which continues through March, said, "that with the desisive stage of our mission here at Camp McCain at hand, we must assume the task of accomplishing an outstanding goal in our 1944 Red Cross War Fund Campaign," and in reviewing accomplishments attained in the past, he asserted, "that the Red Cross Campaign under the capable direction of Major Norman E. Youngblood at Camp McCain for 1043, had dwarfed his expectations, and was a good record to shoot at this year."

Colonel Sutherland stated, "The American Red Cross goes to every service man wherever he may be on duty, for its long arm of mercy embraces the globe, and you can count on my command to lend its full support."

Major Frederick W. Waite, Post Public Relations Officer, was appointed Executive Chairman of the 1944 Red Cross Campaign at the Camp McCain meeting.

Remember, a fine gift for a man in service is some personalized stationer.

Signs of Spring

THE days are still short; half the nation shivers under a blanket of snow—but there are signs of spring everywhere if you know where to look for them.

They are little things—such as new seed catalogs, ads clipped from magazines, reminders, scribbled on backs of envelopes, of things to be done.

Thousands of men, all over the country, are making such notes, looking ahead—farmers, manufacturers, storekeepers, bankers. They represent what is called "management," and they know that to make the most of any season requires pretty careful figuring.

There's a skill in this management. It's a skill that men who run things have in common—that men who run things successfully have got to have. Management's problems are a good deal alike, no matter what the business—getting help, meeting payrolls and tax payments, making ends meet and having a little left over for new projects, planning for the future without letting the planning interfere with the job in hand.

And when you talk with these men, you find they have the same objectives, too. Right now they want to get the war won at the lowest possible cost in lives and suffering. After that's done, they'll be back on their never-ending job of turning out the material things needed to make a better peacetime world. General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Victory Hints

IT'S VICTORY GARDEN TIME

This year there are more seed guide books and manuals than dream books, so the preferred reading for the month will be seed catalogs where every dream comes true. This month every American should consider the importance of starting victory gardens early as well as keeping them going late. Just because most gardeners don't enjoy the nippy days of Spring, don't think the gardens won't. Vegetables especially are often neglected until long after their first planting dates have passed just because the ground in the kitchen garden looks so bleak and uninviting.

SAMMY BURTON

Don't delay this year. Check with experienced gardeners and farmers and find out the earliest date your ground should b tillable. Then go ahead and plant. Use the richest, sunniest, best-drained patch of ground you can get hold of. Keep your garden as close to your house as possible—it means less distance to carry tools and water; and more encouragement to work it. From your County Home Demonstration Agent and from local seed dealers you can get necessary information on gardening that will make your war garden job an easy and profitable one.

Remember, from garden to kitchen is the natural sequence which vegetables follow. Straight from the garden assembly line come the early vegetables — carrots, spinach, leaf lettuce, snap beans, peas and summer squash, to save you money, ration stamps, and to offer health-giving vitamins. But don't be a saboteur in your own kitchen after you have diligently spent effort and time in raising them. The vegetables and fruits you grow must be preserved by refrigeration or canning when gathered, so take good care of your electric refrigerator and range. Keep them in tip-top shape for the busy season ahead.

Do your part in winning the war!

No matter how small it may be—

USO Notes

Mr. Russell Rymer, Regional Supervisor, USO-YMCA, Atlanta, visited the Grenada Club Tuesday. This was the first visit of Mr. Rymer since he assumed duties succeeding Mr. Baker.

GIFTS FROM BOSTON

The Community House USO was the beneficiary this week of a surprise package containing chess, checkers and domino sets, soap bars, chewing gum, baseball equipment and dart games. Only a week earlier, this club received an excellent collection of classical recordings from the same source. The thoughtful people responsible for these gifts is the Serve-A Camp Committee of Boston, organized by the Woman's Division of the National Jewish Welfare Board. This group has recently adopted Camp McCain for its special favors and promisese to meet our future needs with similar articles.

YOUR TRAVELERS AID SERVICE

In many months past Travelers Aid was almost unknown in Grenada but this is no longer true. In November 919 services were given as compared with 590 for October. In December the influx of holiday visitors raised the number to 1978, while in January persons seeking information and direction were recipients of 1543 services.

In addition, 54 situations requiring casework skills were handled in December and 46 in January. Each case is unique because it representts the particular need of an individual or family. One person has run the gamut of misinformation leaving him homeless, penniless and ill. Another camp follower was returned to her home community where care and supervision were arranged for. These and myriad other problems come to light as social situations unfold.

Statistics tell only the numerical side of the story. Underneath is an honest and warm interest in people.

There is a triangular responsibility—the community in which the difficulty occurs, the person in difficulty, and the agency—these converge into a common point of interest—solving the problem at hand. The agency together with community resources create the setting in which the individual can help himself.

"EGGS-STRA—EGGS-STRA"

Fresh eggs in abundance are coming to market, which is good news for homemakers. Once eggs are in the kitchen, it's up to the cook to give a good egg a break—a chance to do its best job for food value and flavor. In order to keep the egg in top class among the protein foods, it would be wise to follow the following "Eggs-Stras" in kindness toward your eggs.

SAMMY BURTON

1.—Don't wash eggs until just ready to use them. An egg shell at the start has a dull, velvety "bloom". This is due to a protective film, which helps keep bacteria and odors from getting into the porous shell. Before storing eggs, wipe off soiled spots with a rough, dry cloth. Washing takes off the protective bloom.

2.—Speed eggs to refrigerator or other cold place without delay. Eggs fare best at 45°F to 60°F.

3. — Store eggs away from strong-smelling foods. A paper carton does its duty as a traveling case, but in home storage the porous paper may absorb odors from foods, and eggs do catch odors easily.

4.—At cooking time, keep in mind an egg toughens at high and prolonged heat. Actually, protein of egg white is more digestible when an egg is cooked at low heat than when either raw or cooked tough. For tender eggs cooked in the shell, keep water below boiling. Start eggs in cold water, bring to simmering (when water doesn't roll). For soft cooked eggs, simmer 3-5 minutes; hard-cooked, about 25-30 minutes.

Whatever way eggs are cooked—scrambled, poached, fried, featured in oven dishes like sponge cake or custard—for best results use controlled, even heat.

Don't forget: that by their fine proteins, minerals and vitamins eggs enrich meals with body-building, vitality-giving foods.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

The Red Cross Calls Again To Patriotic Minds and Hearts

The Red Cross War Fund must be doubled this year.

No other agency could replace the Red Cross in protecting and serving the men in uniform, such services ranging all the way from saving the lives of the wounded to protecting the morals of individual fighters by helping them solve their personal and family problems and troubles and by assuring them that their families are protected in emergencies.

It can be announced that six million pints of American blood has been contributed through the Red Cross Blood Doner Service, but no man knows how many lives of soldiers and sailors have been saved by this blood plasma. We only know they number thousands

No man knows how many wounded have been saved by Red Cross-prepared bandages, nor how many have been helped to recovery by Red Cross hospital workers.

No man can even guess how many hours of misery and strain and worry thousands of parents of men reported wounded or missing have been spared by the ability of the Red Cross to obtain reliable news for them.

When the soldier, sailor, or Marine stationed anywhere from the hottest battle front to the quietest training camp struggles with personal and family problems which make him miserable and lower his efficiency,—is is the Red Cross who helps him.

When a service man's family is threatened with disaster, it is the Red Cross that helps avert it.

When American men are taken as prisoners of war, it is only through the Red Cross that comforts and extra food, can reach them.

And 100,000 Red Cross Volunteer Nurses Aides are helping care for soldiers and civilians.

These are only a few examples of the innumerable duties and services of the Red Cross, only a few illustrations of how the duties and services of this great humane organization have increased, only a few of the reasons why the Red Cross War Fund must be doubled this year.

Grenada County's quota is $20,600.00.

The humanity-loving and patriotic men and women of Grenada and Grenada County who are called upon to give of their time and energy to this campaign, have their own full share and more of extra work imposed by war's demands. They are making a real sacrifice, a big personal contribution, in assuming this work in addition to their other duties and responsibilities.

In other words, why not sit down tonight, think over what the Red Cross is doing, think about what it means to you and to your loved ones,—and then decide the absolute most that you can give.

Universal Military Training

If the United States in the future has to live in a world where other powerful nations have compulsory military training for all physically fit youngsters, this country must follow suit.

We have been caught with our pants down twice, in the first World War and in the Second World War. England and France held the line until we got ready in 1917-1919; Russia and England (at one period, England alone) held the line while we got ready in the present war.

Unless, following the close of the present war, a powerful international police force is created to preserve the peace of the world, the United Stats MUST not again risk destruction, and MUST not depend on other nations to hold the line while we are getting ready. The United States MUST have a system of universal military training for its youth.

The tragic and shameful figures which show what a large percent of our young men is turned down on account of unfitness should make, say, a two year military tour of duty obligatory on EVERY young man when he gets to be 18, so that incipient physical ailments, which can be corrected by proper diet, proper exercise and proper physical care—things that the United States Army will provide. Regardless of these factors, we should have a growing body of TRAINED men in reserve so that, when a national emergency arises, we will be READY.

There will probably not be another World War for 25 years. By that time, EACH young man between the age of 20 and 35 will have had two years of military training. EACH will know what it is all about.

Teddy Roosevelt said it: "Talk soft, but carry a big stick." That should be the future policy of the United States of America. Be nice to other nations, but be ready to use force if necessary. Only by having a great reserve of trained men can this be done.

After over 26 months our growing might is being felt in the Pacific area, and in Germany and Austria, but visualize what COULD have happened had not Russia poured forth her blood in such huge streams and had not England in its darkest hour, thru its Prime Minister, said, "We can take it, and at the proper time we can give it back."

Yes, if we are to live in a world of toughies, we must get tough too.

Politics As Usual

While we thoroughly agree with Senator Barkley's stand against the New Deal, and would applaud him without stint if we thought patriotism was the inspiration for his action, we just naturally beleive that "politics as usual" was the cause of his change of heart, or, to be more exact, change of words.

It is pretty generally conceded that the New Deal is at a new low in Kentucky, where Senator Barkley comes up for reelection this fall, and that Senator Barkley would probably have been defeated unless he altered his coure.

If he was really born again, we apologize for the above words. However we cannot give politicians credit for altruistic motives, but can only credit them with self-interest.

Whatever the motives, Senator Barkley put a bomb under the New Deal, and most of us should be satisfied with it.

Why Not Join The WAC, Young Woman?

(By one of them)

This is not an advertisement for the WAC in the usual sense of the term, for it is written from the inside out, by a WAC who has been in the service for several months.

Consider it a privilege, as we do, to be a member of the WAC. It is a unique opportunity for American women to play an imoprtant part in the Army of the country. It means that we are giving our utmost, all our time, energy, and capabilities, to help speed the end of the war. It also means that we are having experiences which we could never have as civilians.

Some of you may ask the following question: "What effect is Army life going to have upon women?". This is a fair question. Army life is a man's life with its its absence of comforts and luxuries; its lack of the things associated with femininity. Let me say that WAC life conforms in its essentials to the life of the soldiers, but it has adaptations to make it fit the needs of women. Living quarters, for example, are plain but they are comfortable. Improvements, where needed, are made without delay. Speaking from my own experience, Army life is not changing the qualities of women and tending to make them masculine; on the contrary, it is increasing the value of all things purely feminine in the minds of women, by its marked contrast to civilian life.

The hardships of WAC life are counterbalanced by a number of definite advantages. One is that it is a healthful life. The proper number of hours sleep is insured by bed check at night. Wholesome food is served in the mess hall, providing for good nutrition. A well-planned program of physical training makes exercising a pleasure, for the group exercises are arranged in progression, the most difficult being based upon the easiest. Close-order drill, when expertly directed as in the WAC, proves to be enjoyable.

Perhaps the greatest advantage of being a WAC is the opportunity of meeting all different types of people. In her daily life, a WAC associates with women of widely varying personalities. Among them, she makes valuable friendships. Her work and her recreation, both on and off the post, brings her in contact with many men and women, broadening her knowledge of human nature.

A WAC finds that, even though she is a member of a large group and is expected to act in conformity with group needs, she can use her talents and express her individuality continually. She also discovers that her WAC officers are greatly interested in her as a person, and are always ready to help whenever a difficulty arises.

The WAC as an organization is not to be lightly considered. A woman who lives up to its high standards is serving her country in the best way possible. She has also made the wisest choice of war work as far as her own personal interests are concerned. If you are a young woman who has the qualifications necessary for acceptance, why not join the WAC?

Postwar Cotton Farming

Mr. F. C. Wagoner, one of the largest cotton producers in the Delta, at an auction sale at Glenwild last Thursday, sold off about 60 of his choice Hereford cattle, each bringing a fancy price and a handsome profit to the owner.

Probably there is no one else in Grenada county who has the land and the capital necessary to raise as many cattle, and as fine cattle as Mr. Wagner, but certainly there are many who can raise SOME cattle.

Circumstances, so far as the finite mind is concerned, will make it impractical and unprofitabe for the average creek bottom farmer to raise cotton at a profit after the war. The wide fertile acres, free of trees and stumps for miles on end in the Delta and in Texas and Oklahoma, will permit cotton to be raised with more and more mechanical devices and less and less hand labor and will thereby keep the South, with its ideal climate and soil, the dominant cotton-producing section of the world. A circular letter was recently received from Mr. O. F. Bledsoe, of Greenwood. He spoke as if the mechanical picker which can pick as much cotton as about 70 men, will emerge from the ashes os war. He spoke also of something we never heard of before, a flame-throwing device which would kill the grass in the cotton. These two devices would therefore reduce to a minimum the hand labor which has always been a limiting factor in raising a cotton crop. With tractor plows and middle-busters to prepare the seed bed, and with two to four-row cultivators, with flame-throwers to burn the grass and with mechanical pickers to pluck the fiber from the bolls, there is scarcely a limit to what a well-financed planter can produce. The fellow who depends on one mule, a 6-inch turning plow, a bull tongue and a scraper, a hoe, a gee whizz and a middle-buster and human hands to pick the stuff lock by lock is likely to face competition in cotton raising that he can not successfully meet.

This hill country is a well-watered one, where grass will grow about nine months in the year, and is a fine place to raise cattle. What Mr. Wagner has done in a big way, many people of this county are already doing in a small way.

Another factor is this. Most of our young men, both white and colored, are in the war, eating well, well clothed, carefully hospitalized, and well paid. Will they be satisfied to return to a state of life where an entire family will live on from $12 to $20 a month furnish? If they do return to this style of living they will return with great reluctance and only as a last resort.

After the war, all of us will have to live in a "new world", like it or not. Raising cattle seems to provide some sort of means of using our lands, for the raising of cotton in "patches" into which a tractor dares not venture will be a hazardous enterprise indeed.

Clarify The Sales Tax Situation

There is an amendment pending in the State legislature which, if passed, will make it imperative for anyone who performs services, and at the same time pays privilege taxes for following his or its profession or pursuit, to ADD and COLLECT from users of such services the regular two percent sales tax.

At this time, some DO and some DO NOT. For example, the telephone company, having been advised by its attorney to PAY the sales tax into the State Treasury, but not to COLLECT it, paid out in Mississippi in 1932 the sum of $37,000 and in 1943, $120,000.

There should be uniformity in the application of the sales tax law, and the proposed amendment will make it so.

The Old Lady

The old lady devotes her very best—and I think her best is good—to writing articles concerning social events, including weddings. Irrespective of what results from this editorial, she is going to continue to "cover" every wedding to the best of her increasing ability to write.

Now, it so happens that the old lady is a representative of as good an engraving house (which produces engraved announcements, etc.) as there is in the United States. From orders for engraving she receives a modest commission, yet the cost to the buyer is certainly no greater than the cost from any other source, quality considered.

A Complacency Buster

It is a great pity that every person in the United States can not see the film, "War Department Reports", shown at Grenada Theatre free through the courtesy of the Public Relations Office at Camp McCain on last Friday morning.

Among other things brought out by the film were: the fact that Germany has more men under arms today than at the beginning of the war, and more planes available; that the Germans have had time to erect almost impregnable reinforced concrete defenses along the "Invasion Coast," and that huge guns have been emplaced at important points; that, in spite of huge damage done by our bombers, Germany has the capacity to rebuild quickly; that food in Germany both for the army and for the civilians; that there is no evidence of internal revolt; and that the road to Tokyo is long and bloody. The film showed many charts which showed the advantage both the Germans and the Japs possess by short lines of communication, while we have tortuous and long lines to supply our troops.

This film was an eye-opener to those who blithely say, "Oh, the war will soon be over."

Laxness At Induction Stations

In Grenada county they have been something like 200 discharged men who applied for the mustering out pay. We are not kicking about the mustering out pay, but we are kicking about the number of men certified as capable of military service by the medical officers at the induction stations, who subsequently were discharged on account of physical disability.

If the number discharged in this county there were a few who were injured in action, and a few who were injured in this country, but the vast majority of them were men whose incipient physical troubles (which modern science should have been able to detect in advance) developed while in service.

The laxness of the medical officers at the induction stations results in several undesirable things, viz: first, it causes supposed to be free American citizens to be called upon to perform duty they are physically incapable of performing; second, it creates gaps in the combat units which must be filled with untrained men; third, it decreases the efficiency of the army as a whole; fourth, it costs the government millions of dollars in mustering out pay, and, fifth, it makes every discharged man a responsibility of the government—because each one was "checked in" as physically fit, and "checked out" as physically unfit, placing the blame for the changed physical condition on the government.

It looks as if many of the men passing thru the induction stations are merely given the "once over" by the officers and assigned to combat units.

In our opinion, the medical staffs at the induction stations are the weakest links in the army chain, and something should be done about it..

U. S. ASKS FARMERS TO PLANT 16,000,000 ACRES MORE THAN LAST YEAR

"Food Fights for Freedom," and every American farmer has been asked to do his share in planting and cultivating the 16,000,000 acres that are needed over last year's record total.

With farm labor short, every piece of farm machinery must be kept in the fields working, if this goal is to be reached.

"Our organization," says A. J. Angevin, local agent of the Sandard Oil Company, "felt that we could best servethis program by helping the farmer keep his trucks, tractors and farm machinery in fighting trim, and free from rust and dirt. Our drivers have been trained to assist you in caring for your farm machinery, and preserving its life. In addition, each tractor operator can secure from our driver a free Wartime Maintainence Manual, that will help you keep your farm ard Oil man for any service he can render, in keeping their trucks, tractors and machinery on the job."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS PRESENTS HIMSELF AS THE MESSIAH

LESSON TEXT: Mark 11:1-10, 15-18.
GOLDEN TEXT: Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed? And Jesus said, I am.—Mark 14:61, 62.

As our Lord entered upon the last week of His earthly ministry, the time had come for Him to present Himself officially to His people as their Messiah. As He did so, we observe that He then had and now has a right to claim all that we have and are, as well as to exercise judgment over us.

I. His Right to Property (vv. 1-7).

We are so prone to call our possessions our own, and to hold them for our selfish purposes. Just a moment's reflection makes us aware that we are but stewards holding our things, as we hold ourselves, for the use of God.

That means that the Lord need only send for what we have, and we should gladly yield it to Him. "The Lord hath need" is the only requisition we need. He has absolute priority. And yet the very fact that He has need of us and what we have, dignifies our service or sacrifice on His behalf.

How surprising it was that the One who made and upholds all things (Col. 1:16, 17) should have to say, "The Lord hath need of him," in sending for a humble beast of burden. Yet therein lies a marvelous truth. He has graciously so ordered the universe that He has need of us and of our possessions.

Let us also learn the important lesson of unquestioning obedience taught in verse 4. "They went their way" to do what the Lord told them to do. How greatly simplified and glorified would be the lives of Christian people if they would thus obey Christ.

As He came riding into the city, we observe

II. His Right to Praise (vv. 7-10).

God says, "Him that offereth praise glorifieth me" (Ps. 50:23), and the believer recognizes that "praise is comely for the upright" (Ps. 33:1). Jesus is entirely worthy of the praise of every heart and voice.

Presenting Himself as their Messiah, Jesus received the enthusiastic acclaim of His disciples and friends, who were probably joined by others who were drawn by the excitement.

The Pharisees did not join in (see Luke 19:39, 40) nor did the city, not even knowing who He was (Matt. 21:10, 11). So it is today; some love and praise Him, some hate Him, others just ignore Him. Of which class are you?

He gave Jerusalem and the nation a final opportunity to receive Him. It was not yet too late, but it was their last chance. Such a time comes in the life of everyone of us. They rejected Him. Do we?

But even though some did reject, let us not forget that there were those who shouted, "Hosanna," who cast their garments down before Him and waved palms of victory and joy. Thank God for their holy enthusiasm. Pray God that we may have a little more of it.

III. His Right to Punish (vv. 15-18).

People like to hear about a God of love, one who knows their weakness, and is kind toward their infirmities. But we must not forget that God shows His love by a great and holy hatred of sin, and a desire to deliver us from that sin. This means that He must and will deal in drastic fashion with those who persist in their sin.

A second time He drove out from His Father's house those who had made it a place of merchandise, of commercialized thievery.

This is a majestic picture. The Son of God and Son of Man steps into the center of this unholy traffic and with mighty, holy indignation (not anger) drives it out. The people who had suffered long because of this religious racket, which paid a nice "cut" to the priests themselves (probably as a "gift" even as such things are managed now), were jubilant.

We read in the same story in Matthew 21:12-22 that the boys who were in the temple (for such is doubtless the meaning of "children" in verse 15) were so delighted at this magnificent exercise of His divine authority that they broke out into "Hosannas," which really amounted to a holy "Hurrah."

Well, why not? Hurrah for our Lord! He will not tolerate iniquity even though it hides under the cloak of religion. He is not afraid to speak out and to act against sin and corruption.

Possibly the church would reach a good many more men and boys in our day if it would step out in faith to fight the wrong and support the right. Then maybe the young men would shout, "Hurrah for the church."

The chief priests and scribes were afraid and displeased and began to plot against Him. The passage in Matthew indicates that their anger was aroused both by the acts of Jesus and the praise of the boys.

CIVILIAN TIRES:
More Later

Because requirements for military, bus and truck tires are expected to lessen later in the year, Rubber Director Bradley Dewey predicted an increase in supply for civilians after July 1.

Because of the restrictions on driving through gas rationing and the greater care being given to tires, the expected total supply of 18 or 24 million tires for 1944 should be sufficient to meet essential needs, Dewey said. Overall production for the year, however, is 6,000,000 below earlier estimates.

Although the synthetic rubber program utilizing alcohol and petroleum should hit peak production at a rate of 1,000,000 tons annually by August, the shortages of manufacturing equipment and high tenacity rayon cord for heavy duty tires is slowing up the whole tire program, Dewey said.

Up to July 1, there will be monthly production of 1,000,000 tires, with 750,000 available for rationing and 250,000 kept in reserve, Dewey reported.

RUSSIA:
Reduce Threat

Russian forces whittled down the Germans' toehold in the lower Ukraine and sought to remove the threat of an enemy encirclement drive in that sector in major action along the 800-mile eastern front.

Stiffening German defenses slowed the Reds' push in the Baltic, with the enemy bitterly holding the threshold into Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. Chewing deeply into Nazi lines before these states, however, the Russ forced the Germans to withdraw in many places to prevent entrapment from the rear.

Down at the southern end of the long front, strong Russian forces were beating the Germans back from the lower Ukraine, where they have been holding a long lick of territory at the back of the Red armies surging into prewar Poland. By rolling up the Nazi lines here, the Russ were removing the threat of a possible German thrust at the rear of General Vatutin's armies.

RECONSTRUCTION:
Lumber Needed

Some idea of the tremendous demand for lumber for postwar reconstruction can be obtained from Great Britain's inquiries for 5,000,000,000 board feet in the first year after the war for rebuilding damaged towns, Dr. Wilson Compton of the National Lumber Manufacturers association told the fifty-fourth annual convention of the Illinois Lumber and Material Dealers association. Normally, Britain buys 250,000,000 board feet yearly.

Although only 7,000,000,000 board feet of lumber are to be allocated for civilian use in 1944 for farm construction, war housing and repair and maintenance work, the supply may be cut still further by increased demands for boxing, crating and dunnage.

Each soldier requires 300 feet of lumber for packaging and other similar uses when shipped overseas, Dr. Compton said, and an additional 50 feet a month for supplies.

Exploiting war conditions by unscrupulously upgrading lumber is injurious to the whole trade in the long run, Dr. Compton said.

STRIKES:
Up in '43

Although 3,750 strikes were staged in 1943 involving 1,900,000 workers, their short duration resulted in only a loss of .07 of working time, the U. S. labor department reported.

Nevertheless, strikers were out an average of 7.1 days in 1943, compared with 5 days in 1942, when there were 2,968 walkouts. In 1941, each striker lost 9.8 days, and 4,288 walkouts were staged. In the prewar year 1939, the average striker stayed out 15.2 days.

In 1943, four coal strikes involving 400,000 miners resulted in 8,500,000 idle man days, or an average of 20 days per worker.

About 20,000 industrial disputes were settled by U. S. agencies in 1943 without work stoppages, 16,000 by the department of labor, and 3,955 by the War Labor board.

SOLES

A new oil-treating process that makes leather soles last 25 to 50 per cent longer may soon be employed in manufacture of all civilian shoes. The army has required oil-treatment of its footgear since early in 1943.

Proponents of the process point out that treated shoes, by lasting longer, would ease the shortage in the new shoe supply. It is estimated that 180,000,000 pairs with oil-treated soles would give as much service as 250,000,000 untreated pairs.

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

Normally U. S. motorists needed 30 to 35 million new replacement tires a year. In 1942 and 1943 combined, only about 17 million tires will have reached vehicle owners through rationing offices.

Koroseal is "Plasticked polyvinyl chloride," a B. F. Goodrich rubber-like material that before the war was used in more than 300 different products. Koroseal has now gone to war.

Wheel alignment means much to tire mileage these days, with so many old cars in service. Frequent checking of camber and toe-in in front wheels will prove a rubber and mileage saver.

WHEN we think of the type of curtains used in Early Colonial cottages, crisp frills and ruffles usually come to mind. It is true that ruffled curtains were used in Colonial times but the curtains of the first homes in the New World were of the casement or sash variety. We must remember that as late as the discovery of America glass windows were rare. They were of the casement type with tiny diamond-shaped pieces held together with lead. Simple straight curtains to keep out the glare and give privacy were the next logical development.

Frills and larger panes of glass came later but sash curtains were also used with these new windows. They are also being used with good effect today for rooms where an informal atmosphere is needed. In the dinette shown here the sash curtained windows are bordered with a set of colorful plates.

NOTE—This is the first of a series on modern adaptations of period curtain fashions. There is another interesting treatment of a sash-curtained window in BOOK 1; and the method of lining casement draw curtains is illustrated in BOOK 3 of the series of 10 booklets on sewing for the home. Price of booklets is 15 cents each. Order direct from:

IN MEMORY OF MRS. SARAH FLORENCE TRUSTY

Dear mother, on November 21, 1943 God in His infinite wisdom saw fit to call your poor, frail aching body and soul home to be with Jesus, whom you loved and trusted.

Mother, you don't know how we miss youwhen we go back to the old home. But we know that God's will must be done, and some bright day we're all going to meet in that beautiful home notmade by hands, where there won't beany more sad good byes.

If you could only see the beautiful flowers placed on your newly made grave, you would know how we loved and cherished you.

Sadly missed by your devoted daughter,

Willie.

Their Needs Over There May Delay Your Getting Telephone Service Over Here

Here at home we have restrictions on telephone service, so that our men at the front may have what they need in telephone equipment.

BECAUSE metals and other communication materials are so badly needed in war, it is becoming more and more difficult for the telephone company to fill service requests. In fact, facilities are now insufficient to meet the demands for service. So unless you qualify as an essential user — one whose telephone usage is essential to defense or public health, welfare or security—we regret that you may experience delay in getting service.

When facilities are available, they must be employed first for essential users. Then, from any facilities remaining, others will be served in their regular order. We will be glad to take your application for service, but a reasonable time may be required to determine if service can be furnished.

Everything possible is being done to lessen the effect of wartime restrictions on telephone service. And we look forward to the time when materials will be available, and we can again furnish the service you want when you want it.

GET IN THE SCRAP WITH SCRAPS!

"Get in the scrap with scraps" is an excellent slogan, but it has a different application from "scraps" at school, collections of rubber and metal, old hose and tin cans, although they too are a very worthy cause. What we intend for the definition of scrap is to conserve: When you cook, save every last scrap of food, meat and vegetables so as to flavor foods or revamp a dish to play the main actor's part in the meal. Conservation is the key to patriotic cooking. Heaping plates are out for the duration. Serve small helpings and let them ask for more.

SAMMY BURTON

Dunking has become as fashionable as the bustle once was and a lot more practical. The new rules say if there's gravy or vegetable juice on your plate, it's entirely proper to "sop" it up with a piece of bread.

Pick it up and squeeze it, get it dry. This is another new rule in the manners book and applies to grapefruit and oranges. There are extra vitamins in the remaining juice and the juice tastes so good, too.

Garnishes such as parsley should come in for their share of the rules, served crisp and clean, they are richer in Vitamins and minerals and when pushed aside, you are pushing away what you must have everyday for health.

Don't let your food go up in smoke. Watch your cooking and avoid this. Burned toast can be scraped and ground into crumbs.

Last, but not least, plan to save. It's wartime and we must use every last bit. Don't throw food to the Axis. Save to save America.
